

B1

William Burke and William Hare, two Irish Immigrants, were accused of carrying out the so-called West Port Murders, in Edinburgh, Scotland in the years 1827 – 1828. They then sold the corpses of their seventeen victims to a Dr Robert Knox for dissection by his students at Edinburgh Medical College.